KING'S POLICE MEDAL.

NOTIFICATION.

(POLICE.)

Delhi, the 1st January 1918.

No. I.-C.—His Majesty the KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, has been pleased to confer the King's Police Medal on the following officers and men of the Indian Police establishments:—

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
	MADRAS.
1 Walter Henry Wright, Assistant Superintendent of Police.	Mr. Wright did excellent work in the riots in the Koraput Agency in 1914. He performed a long and trying march at short notice and showed great pluck and determination, getting under control a village in which a sub-inspector had nearly been killed and arresting the majority of the accused. He also made a thorough investigation of the case which ended in conviction. Again in 1916 in connection with the suppression of the Lagarai gang of dacoits in the Godavari district Mr. Wright worked most loyally under Mr. C. E. Sweney, then acting Superintendent of Police, who was placed on special duty to run down the gang and who was himself last year awarded the King's Police Medal for the successful manner in which he performed the task entrusted to him. For several months Mr. Wright endured hardships and privations in a most unhealthy tract and exhibited conspicuous devotion to duty which assisted very materially in the breaking up of the gang. The Governor in Council in reviewing the report of the proceedings against the gang has also placed on record his high appreciation of this officer's valuable services.
2 Golla Simhachellam, Sub-Inspector of Police, Godavari district.	During the year 1915 an armed gang of dacoits operated in the Vizagapatam and Godavari districts committing numerous crimes. Matters became so serious that an Assistant Superintendent of Police was placed on special duty with a large party under him. This sub-inspector, who rose from constable's rank, was employed in this party and in May 1916 got information about the movements of the gang. With a small party of police he followed up the information with promptitude and tracked the gang through very difficult country to its hiding place. On the approach of the police the gang opened fire which was returned by the former The gang then bolted leaving behind weapons and ammunition. One dacoit was killed and three arrested. This affair was responsible for the final breaking up of the gang, which, being deprived of its arms, was soon rounded up.

Abdul Aziz Sahib, Inspector of Police, Godavari district.	This officer has put in 30 years' service and has a good record. He did most valuable work for several months under Mr. Sweney in the pursuit of the Lagarai gang and though not a young man he submitted with the greatest cheerfulness to long marches, sleepless nights and constant exposure to all weathers in a very unhealthy tract of country. He also rendered great assistance in dealing with some of the constables on special duty who tried to mutiny. Throughout he showed conspicuous devotion to duty.
Nandi Kishora Padhi, Inspector of Police, Vizagapatam district.	This officer was in charge of the Chintappalle Circle in November 1915 when the notorious Lagarai gang murdered the Muttadar of Dharakonda and stole R12,000 in cash besides jewelry and five guns. The successful issue of this case was entirely due to him. He did most valuable work in unearthing the hiding place of the gang, discovering the names of their supernumeraries and securing information about their plans. He then worked under Mr. C. E. Sweney on special duty for several months and in the most trying conditions showed conspicuous devotion to duty. His tact, patience and conduct in encouragin the men under him are worthy of the highest praise. The Governor in Council has placed on record his high appreciation of this officer's services also.
	BOMBAY.
Roy Havelock Haslam, Assistant Superintendent, Agency Police, Kathiawar.	For conspicuous gallantry under fire during an attempt by convicts to break out of the Rajkot State Jail on the 1st and 2nd of December 1916. Mr. Haslam was on duty from 6 P.M. on the 1st December 1916 until after 6 A.M. on the 2nd December and was exposed to fire from weapons used by the convicts throughout the whole period. Colonel Britton and all other officers present concurred in their appreciation of Mr. Haslam's coolness and pluck, of which the Agent to the Governor was personally witness. He inspired confidence in the members of the Police force under his command.
6 Rajabkhan Daudkhan, a fourth grade head constable in the Kaira District Police.	On 10th September 1915 a fire broke out in the shop of a Borah named Gaffur Asmal in Anand. The fire spread so rapidly that the occupants escaped with difficulty. The owner's little boy, aged about 5 years, was left inside the burning house, and with the utmost bravery head constable Rajabkhan entered the burning shop, rescued the child and brought him out alive. In performing this act of bravery the head constable was terribly burnt and the doctor almost despaired of his recovery. Eventually the head constable had to remain in hospital for four months. His hands and legs are permanently disfigured, and he is still unable to wear boots.
7 Peter Sullivan, Superintendent of the Criminal Investigation Department, Bombay City Police.	He has a most excellent record, consisting of 54 commendatory entries, nearly all connected with detective work. His admitted detective ability led to his appointment as Superintendent of the reorganised Criminal Investigation Department in the year 1910 over the heads of officers senior to him in the cadre. Since the outbreak of the war the work of the Criminal Investigation Department has increased enormously, and many of the confidential enquiries arising directly out of the war concerning Europeans or large firms have been entrusted to the Superintendent. Mr. Sullivan has recently been placed on special duty in connection with the work arising out of the Registration Ordinance, the Indian Defence Force Act and labour recruitment. The pressure of work, particularly during the period of registration, was very heavy and in connection with this special duty Mr. Sullivan has, as always, shown the greatest zeal.

Abdul Satar Khan walad Sobdar Khan, Inspector of Police, fourth grade, Karachi District (acting third grade)	During the long period of his service this officer has won the praise of almost every officer under whom he has served, and has earned no less than 27 rewards. He has shown marked ability in the detection of dacoities, and has been of the greatest assistance in checking this form of crime. Recently he did excellent work in detecting two dacoities in the Karachi district, and bringing the suspected offenders to trial. He has also rendered valuable service in assisting the railway police to put a stop to the organised system of train thefts which was prevalent on the railway in the Karachi district.
9 Malaya Ganpat, acting second grade Inspector of Police in the Poona District.	This officer commenced service as a head constable in 1891. After working at the Training School as instructor in law, he was posted to Junnar circle of the Poona district which has been allowed to get into a very bad state. The Police were corrupt, and crime, though rife, was not registered. This he has succeeded in completely altering. He first managed to break up one of the chief gangs of thieves that had been responsible for a large part of the crime. At Pimpalwandi things had got out of hand and the Police were a by-word, but this has changed and crime has ceased. This is due to the energetic action taken by him after Ananda Bhil was captured by the Ahmednagar Police, for his charge is particularly liable to depredations by the Bhils from over the border. They had been giving trouble and were suspected of having committed a dacoity with murder, but there was practically no clue whatever to indicate who the actual culprits were. However by keen and careful investigation he succeeded in detecting the case and in securing a conviction against some of the perpetrators.
10 Khan Saheb Imam Muhammad, a third grade Inspector of Police, Criminal Investigation Department, Bombay Presidency.	Exceptional good work as a detective during a long period of service commenced in the lowest grade. He has 47 entries in his record for good service rendered in the detection of crime both of a sporadic and organised nature. He has recently added to his record by detecting a difficult case of burglary in which property valued at R10,000 was stolen and recovered. The case had baffled the efforts of the local police who invoked the assistance of the Criminal Investigation Department. Khan Saheb Imam was deputed to investigate the case and did so very cleverly and successfully.
11 Gerald Sidney Wilson, Deputy Commissioner of Police for the Port of Bombay.	In addition to his duties as Deputy Commissioner of Police for the Port, he has also been in executive charge of the Pilgrim Department and Secretary of the Bombay Haj Committee. As Deputy Commissioner of Police for the Port, Mr. Wilson has been in close touch with the naval and military authorities. The Royal Indian Marine Dockyard, one of the Divisions of the Bombay City Police, is also in his charge, and the reserve police at headquarters is under his direct supervision. Mr. Wilson, therefore, bears the brunt of the war work which falls on the civil police, and has shown great capacity and energy in connection with the numerous calls made on him. In addition to his multifarious duties Mr. Wilson had to undertake the additional charge of the Deputy Commissioner of Police for the City for a period of six months. His appointment as Deputy Commissioner of Police for the Port is part of an extensive reorganization scheme necessitated by the opening of the new docks, and the policing of this area on modern lines is being worked out by him. In addition to the successful reorganization of a very important division, the Port of Bombay, his energy in meeting the various demands of the naval and military authorities merits recognition. The war has thrown a great strain on the Police, particularly at an important base like Bombay, and it is due in a large measure to Mr. Wilson's foresight and organising capacity that the police system has not broken down, whether it be in the supply of guards or escorts, the transfer of prisoners or the thousand and one details arising out of the increased shipping connected with the war which enters and leaves this port.

12 Ganu Dhansing, a second grade head constable, District East Khandesh (retired).	He has had no punishment in 34 years' service and retired on 1st April 1917. He has had excellent influence with the men, and bears an unblemished character. He was an excellent stamp of man.
	BENGAL.
13 Nalini Nath Mazumdar, Inspector, Calcutta Police.	This officer was transferred to the Calcutta Police in 1910 where he has worked ever since. His work has always been carried out in a praiseworthy manner and he has never spared himself in following hazardous cases to a successful conclusion.
14 Sashi Bhusan Bhattacharji, Inspector of Police, Bengal.	He is one of the most courageous officers in the department and has done most meritorious work in highly important and dangerous cases.
15 Rajendra Nath Basu, Inspector of Police, Bengal.	He is a most painstaking and reliable officer and has performed his duties in several dangerous and important cases courageously and efficiently.
16 Narendra Nath Mukharji, Sub-Inspector of Police, Bengal.	He has done exceptionally valuable detective work and has shown great devotion to duty and absolute fearlessness.
17 Jamir Khan, constable, Bengal Police.	This constable displayed conspicuous gallantry and presence of mind in arresting dangerous criminals in the following circumstances:— In April 1915 he accompanied the sub-inspector of his police station on the occasion of the search for certain absconders. When the men were encountered, they attacked the Police with deadly weapons and one of them attempted to spear the sub-inspector. The constable then intervened, and while warding off the blow with his lathi was struck in the abdomen. He did not flinch from his duty and eventually, after a prolonged struggle succeeded in arresting his assailant, though he was again wounded by the latter's son. The accused were sent up and convicted under sections 324 and 353, Indian Penal Code.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decor has been conferred.
	BENGAL—contd.
18 Robert Martin Wright, Superintendent of Police, Bengal.	Mr. Wright displayed great gallantry in pursuing at night and arresting single-handed a dangerous armed dacoit.
19 Amrita Lal Singh, head constable, Calcutta Police.	This officer followed up a dangerous armed criminal and at the risk of his life pluckily arrested him with the help of three constables whom he had picked up on the way.
20 Azam Khan, head constable, Bengal Police.	While on ordinary round duty at night this officer observed a man running along a road and challenged him. The man replied by firing a pistol at him. The head constable dodged the shot and felled the assailant with a lathi blow on the neck and arrested him. He proved to be a dangerous criminal escaping from the police.
21 Ram Sakal Gosain, head constable, Bengal Police.	This officer displayed conspicuous bravery and incurred great personal risk in following, unarmed and on foot, a gang of twelve armed dacoits who twice turned and fired on him. He did not cease from the pursuit until darkness came on. Some of the men were subsequently identified by him and convicted.
22 Jogendra Chandra Gupta, Sub-Inspector of Police, Intelligence Branch, Criminal Investigation Department, Bengal.	This officer displayed great gallantry and presence of mind in pursuing and arresting a dangerous criminal armed with a loaded revolver.

UNITED PROVINCES.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services
Ali Ahmad, constable of the Budaun district. 24 Bhagwant Singh, Sub-Inspector, station officer of Islamnagar thana, Budaun district.	On September 8th, 1916, a notorious dacoit leader, Sewa Jat, with several of his gang, well armed and laden with the spoils of a big dacoity, had taken refuge in a patch of millet standing about as high as a man. The police surrounded the field from the south and north, the sub-inspector and the two constables armed with rifles taking the south and the constable being with the inspector's party on the northern edge of the field. The sub-inspector led his men into the field and they were fired at and returned the fire with the result that one dacoit fell mortally wounded. They then rushed the position and the other armed dacoits fled, but being turned back by villagers on the east of the field were captured by the sub-inspector's party. Meanwhile the leader broke out from the northern edge of the field. He carried a double-barrelled gun and sword. The constable, who was a trained wrestler, tackled him, threw him, and after a struggle secured him. The net result was the conviction of six desperados and the recovery of very valuable property.
Muhammad Khan, constable of the Kheri district.	This officer was deputed to arrest a noted dacoit and for several days and nights waited pertinaciously in ambush for him. On December 10th, 1916, the dacoits returned home with a party of four others and the constable who had collected a few chaukidars made a rush at them and pursued them when they ran. After an exchange of lathi blows one dacoit fired a revolver at the constable and missed him narrowly. The constable replied by a lathi blow which brought him down and from the effects of which he subsequently died. The constable was uninjured except for a lathi blow on the arm.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
	PUNJAB.
26 George Grosvenor Bruce Iver, Superintendent of Police Jhelum district.	Mr. Iver has 15 years' service to his credit and early came to notice as an officer of exceptional ability when officiating in charge of the difficult and criminal Ferozepore district in 1908—10. In March 1913 he was specially selected to hold charge of the Jhelum district in which, at the time, dacoities and other forms of violent crime were rampant. Mr. Iver speedily countered the situation and within a year crime was well in hand. During his charge crime has steadily decreased and the Jhelum district is now one of the quietest and best administered police districts in the province.
Mohammad Rashid, head constable, Ferozepore district.	On the 3rd February 1917, Mohammad Rashid, who was then a constable, was one of an escort conveying an under-trial prisoner named Lalu from Ferozepore to Fazilka. While the train was in rapid motion Lalu managed to free himself from his handcuffs, and jumped through the window of the carriage. Constable Mohammad Rashid, who was not responsible for the escape, instantly dived head foremost out of the window after the prisoner, and was rendered unconscious by his fall It may be added that the prisoner, who had also been badly hurt by his fall, was subsequently secured by other police officers before he recovered sufficiently to make his escape.
28 Haidar Ali, Sub-Inspector, Ludhiana district.	This officer entered the police as a foot constable in 1890, and, through sheer ability, rose to the rank of sub-inspector in 1914. He has earned special commendation on no less than 40 occasions for services in connection with the detection of crime and the arrest of offenders. He has shown great zeal and detective ability in an important and dangerous case.
29 Faiz-ul-Hassan, Sub-Inspector.	This officer entered the police as a head constable in 1902 and within 3 years obtained promotion to the rank of sub-inspector. During his 14 years' service he has earned special commendation on 16 occasions for exceptional good work connected with the detection of crime and apprehension of offenders. He rendered very valuable services in the collection of evidence for the prosecution in some important cases.
30 Mirza Miraj-ud-Din, Inspector, Punjab Police	On the 20th June 1917, Mr. Abbott, Deputy Commissioner of Sialkot, while attempting to persuade some members of the Pakhiwara criminal tribe to comply with the orders of Government transferring them to an industrial settlement, was attacked and severely handled by some 250 Pakhiwaras armed with clubs. The Inspector seeing Mr. Abbott knocked down, rushed single handed to that officer's assistance, and with great presence of mind, fired his revolver at the mob, wounding three men and putting the rest to flight. The Inspector was struck with a club before he used his revolver. Mr. Abbott acknowledges that, in all probability, his life was saved by the prompt and courageous action of Inspector Mirza Miraj-ud-Din.
	BURMA.
31 Malcolm James Chisholm, Deputy Inspector-General of Police for Railways and Criminal Investigation, Burma.	For a long and distinguished record in administrative work and especially for conspicuous ability and merit displayed in his present post during the war. 	especially in detective work, and has rendered valuable service to the State. He is an untiring worker, and as head of the Criminal Investigation Branch his work would in any case have been remarkable. But during the war it has been exceptionally so. His efforts have done much to control such unrest as there was in the Province.
32 Charles Arthur Reynell, District Superintendent of Pol , Henzada.	Mr. Reynell showed great gallantry and promptitude in at once proceeding to Kungyangon village at night on the 21st September 1916, from the Myogwin bungalow some distance away, and attacking a gang of armed dacoits who were raiding the village. Mr. Reynell had no armed followers, but single handed immediately fired on and wounded some of the gang. He also without any companion entered the house that was being dacoited and attacked one of the dacoits there. His courageous action induced the villagers to resist the criminals, with the result that others besides the men wounded by Mr. Reynell were captured on the spot and finally all but one man were arrested and have been committed to sessions. Almost the whole of the property was also recovered. The gang was composed of desperate criminals who killed the headman of the village in their attempt to break through the villagers.
33 Sita Ram, Deputy Superintendent of Police.	Sita Ram joined the Burma Military Police in 1898. In 1902 he was posted to the Criminal Investigation Department as a Sergeant. He has since worked his way up to the rank of Deputy Superintendent He has rendered highly valuable service in the detection of dangerous crime.
34 Maung Kyaung Ba, T. D. M. Inspector (Honorary Deputy Superintendent) of Police (retired).	Maung Kyaung Ba has an unsullied record of over 30 years' service. His long service has been distinguished by special ability and merit, and he has always been recognized as a detective officer of exceptional skill. During 1885-87 he was in the thick of the fighting in the Minbu district, and while hunting rebels there he was thrown from his pony and damaged his spine. All through the remainder of his service he has suffered from the effects of that incident. In 1913 after a long and difficult investigation his skill brought to light a very serious dacoity (8 accused persons convicted and hanged), and it was in following up a gang of dacoits in the malarious tracts round Laungshe during the rains of 1916 that his health finally gave way and necessitated his retirement. He had, however, the satisfaction of securing the apprehension of the dacoit leader before he left.
35 Pahalman Chettri, 1st grade Jemadar, Arakan Hill Tracts Military Police Battalion.	This officer was enlisted in the Police Department on the 1st November 1883. He has rendered long and approved service under adverse conditions in an inhospitable and unhealthy climate, has shown readiness to carry out cheerfully and willingly and at all times the orders of his superior officers, and has displayed unfailing tact and common sense.
36 Arratoon Catchick, Deputy Superintendent of Police, officiating District Superintendent of Police, Katha.	Mr. Catchick entered the Burma Police as a 2nd grade head constable on the 1st February 1888. During the whole of his service he has received the commendations of his superior officers. He has never spared himself in the performance of his arduous duties, and he has done much to maintain law and order in the various charges held by him.

37 Ernest Woodburn Trotter, District Superintendent of Police, Burma.

This officer joined the Department as Inspector of Police in 1889 and served as Assistant Superintendent from 1894 to 1901 except for brief periods during which he was employed on famine duty in the Bombay Presidency and as an Extra Assistant Commissioner in Burma. Since August 1901 he has been employed under the Government of Siam where he has rendered invaluable services which have been appreciated and recognized by His Majesty the King of Siam. He has also been of great help in connection with the preservation of peace and security in Burma.

38 Reginald Charles Whiting, District Superintendent of Police, Burma.

This officer entered the Police Department as an Inspector in 1890 and served as Assistant Superintendent from 1898 until he was seconded for service under the Siamese Government in 1902. His services in Siam have been invaluable and have been appreciated and recognized by His Majesty the King of Siam. He has also rendered services of great value in connection with the preservation of peace and security in Burma.

BIHAR AND ORISSA.

39 Henry St. John Morrison, Deputy Superintendent of Police.

In connection with the Bakr-Id disturbances in the district of Patna in 1916, Mr. Morrison was deputed to Jadopur where the most serious rioting occurred.

Before he took charge there had been indications that the police could not be relied on and there is reason to believe that the subsequent improvement in their behaviour was due to his personal influence. The village was attacked by a mob estimated at about 10,000 persons who made several determined attempts to break through. Mr. Morrison showed great resource and restraint and withheld the orders for the police to fire till he found that nothing else would stop the mob getting through. The District Magistrate in his report on the riots specially acknowledged the value of Mr. Morrison's services.

40 Swarup Narayan Singh, Jamadar, Military Police Company, Bhagalpur.

This officer also displayed great gallantry in connection with the Bakr-Id disturbances at Kanchanpur in the District of Patna in 1916.

On the 9th October 1916, the village of Kanchanpur was beset by a mob of some 5,000 persons who were in a highly excited state. Jamadar Swarup Narayan Singh displayed the greatest coolness and courage in going amongst the frenzied mob and attempting to dissuade them from attacking the village. When the order to fire was given by Inspector Knight the Jamadar went up and down the line exercising fire control over the men.

CENTRAL PROVINCES.

41 Khwaja Muhammad Akram Khan, Deputy Superintendent.

From May 1916 to January 1917, Mr. Akram Khan was in command of the special police force engaged in the pursuit of what was known as the Ranital gang of dacoits who for many months had been committing dacoities and robberies in the Saugor and Damoh districts and the intervening and adjoining Native States of Panna and Bijawar. The gang had never committed actual murder but had on various occasions fire at and wounded and otherwise brutally treated persons whom they robbed, and were known to be all well armed and prepared to resist capture. The nature of the country, all hill and thick jungle, and the unreliability of the information available made the task a particularly arduous one. Finally in January 1917 the gang, then consisting of 11 men, was definitely located in the jungles in the neighbourhood of Kakra in the Panna State. Mr. Akram Khan made a forced march on the 22nd January and during that night succeeded in quietly surrounding the dacoits' encampment on three sides, leaving the fourth side open for the assaulting party, which he personally led at dawn on the 23rd. This attack was made so suddenly and pushed home so vigorously that the dacoits, taken completely by surprise, had no time to use their loaded and capped guns. Not a single policeman was hurt, seven of the dacoits were captured on the spot of whom two, shewing fight, received injuries from which they eventually died. Four managed to escape in the confusion but a further energetic pursuit, also led by Mr. Akram Khan in person, resulted in their capture within the next few days. Throughout the rather protracted operations Mr. Akram Khan displayed a commendable degree of perseverance, organising capacity and personal courage.

ASSAM.

42 Singbir Gharti, Subadar, Lushai Hills Military Police Battalion.	This officer's prolonged service (28 years) has been marked by special ability and merit and recently he has done excellent work in preparing drafts for the Regular Army. Already 520 men have passed through his hands. He is a keen and capable officer.
43 Khan Sahib Helimulla, offg. Deputy Superintendent of Police, Sylhet district.	This officer has enjoyed the confidence and appreciation of many officers in succession both in and out of the Department. Is hardworking, keen, efficient and up-to-date. Is most attentive to his duties and absolutely reliable and loyal. Has had a most honourable career, having worked his way up from the ranks in the course of 31 years' service by exceptional worth and merit.
44 Janghir Lama, Subadar, Lakhimpur Military Police Battalion.	An exceptionally capable officer, well educated, hardworking and loyal. Is equally good in the field and at headquarters, while his exceptional ability and intelligence make him a most efficient instructor. He has a very good knowledge of English and is in possession of the Indian Distinguished Service Order for good work done in the Abor Expedition of 1911-12.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.

45 Eric Charles Handyside, Superintendent of Police, 4th grade.	Mr. E. C. Handyside was awarded the King's Police Medal in the Government of India, Home Department, Notification no. 25, dated the 9th of January 1911. During the four years Mr. Handyside has spent in the Frontier Constabulary he has acquired a reputation for fearlessness, tenacity and personal bravery which it would be hard to equal. In June 1916 he surrounded and burnt the village of Kui Ali Khel. In October, after a night march of sixteen miles into independent Territory, he burnt two towers. In December he encountered a gang of 17 Mahsuds returning from an incursion into the Punjab and by good leading forced them to evacuate a strong position on the hills near Sheikh Budin. He followed them tirelessly for six days and it was through no fault of his that they ultimately escaped. In January 1917 a gang of seven Mahsuds was located in a cave, from which they defied the efforts of a mixed force of regulars and Frontier Constabulary to eject them. They were eventually driven out by burning maize stalks being thrown down from a point fifteen feet above the mouth of the cave. To effect this Mr. Handyside and his men had to expose themselves in a most dangerous position but their pluck was rewarded by the shooting of every one of the gang within a distance of fifty yards from the mouth of the cave. The pluck and tenacity displayed by Mr. Handyside, during the four years he has spend in the Frontier Constabulary, are reported as deserving of the highest reward. Mr. Handyside is awarded, under sixthly of the Royal Warrant, a bar to his medal.

46 Zahir Gul Khan, Inspector, 4th grade.	On the 26th of June a gang of five Mahsuds, headed by the notorious outlaw Mir Afzal, raided a village in the Bannu district and carried off a man and a woman. Sub-Inspector Zahir Gul hearing that some suspicious persons were in hiding near the Kurram river, proceeded to the spot and located the gang. The Mahsuds seeing that the police were no more numerous than themselves, attempted to rush them. This officer, however, immediately opened fire and opposed the gang practically single-handed; having emptied his magazine, he attempted to retire to another position, reloading as he went but was hit in the thigh. Although severely wounded he got into a firing position and killed one of the advancing raiders; this loss dispirited the gang and they retired to their hiding place. Troops and other search parties then arrived and subsequently killed two more of the gang and their captives escaped. Practically the whole credit of the successful enterprise belongs to Sub-Inspector Zahir Gul.
47 Malik Mazaffar Khan, Inspector, 3rd grade.	On the 26th of January 1916 information was received that fourteen absconders in a murder case were in their homes in village Hari Chand. The village was surrounded and each absconder's house was fastened from outside and picketted by a party under the Assistant Superintendent of Police and Inspector Malik Mazaffar Khan. Most of the absconders were armed and resistance was anticipated. When the house of one Nur was entered he was found sitting in a corner with a loaded Martini-Henry rifles in his hand; he was about to open fire when Inspector Mazaffar Khan, who was the first to enter, sprang on him, whilst another officer seized his rifle. There is no doubt that had this officer not acted with such promptitude and courage there would have been considerable casualties among the Police.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
	INDORE STATE.
48 Thomas Henry Morony, District Superintendent of Police, 4th grade.	During his five years' tenure (1912-17) of the post of Inspector-General, Mr. Morony has greatly increased the efficiency, while reducing the cost of the Indore State Police. For the organisation of the Force his predecessor, Mr. Seagrim, received the King's Police Medal in 1911. Mr. Morony's services have been no less valuable and the conditions under which he has had to work, since the termination of the minority of the Chief, have demanded a special degree of the tact. In conveying their thanks to the Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, for the loan of Mr. Morony's services, the Indore Darbar have alluded to the marked decrease in violent crime, the success of police investigations especially in cases of cattle theft (a particularly prevalent form of offence presenting special difficulties of detection) and the advance in the training, equipment and morale of the Police force, during his tenure of office.
	TONK STATE.
49 Samuel Thomas Hollins, Superintendent of Police, 5th grade, Inspector-General of Tonk State Police.	In August 1916 three armed and desperate men took up their position in houses in the Tonk City in order to resist the lawful apprehension of one of their number. On a posse of armed police approaching the houses in which the men had taken up there position they were fired on and had to retire. Mr. Hollins on being informed at once proceeded to the spot and found that the man to be arrested and his two companions had barricaded the door of the courtyard leading into the houses in which they had taken up their position. He called on the three men to throw down their arms and surrender but this they refused to do saying they would not be taken alive. Seeing that there was nothing to be gained by arguing with them Mr. Hollins, having sent some of his men to scale the houses at the back of the courtyard, made a very gallant frontal attack on the positions the three men had taken up. The ringleader, Muhammad Saiyad, fired at him with a revolver and three other shots were subsequently fired at him at very close range, fortunately without effect. Mr. Hollins wounded two of his assailants, and meanwhile his men having reached from the back of the house, a place from which they could enfilade the position, the thre men gave themselves up and were arrested—a result which was entirely due to Mr Hollins' bold and determined action.
	BALUCHISTAN.
50 Adalat Khan, Head Constable.	This officer's record of service is a particularly good one and his work has on numerous occasions been recognised by the grant of certificates and rewards. He has for five months been employed on the special duty of unravelling extensive frauds on the Nushki-Robat-Sistan route in which certain officials of the Supply and Transport Department are implicated and large sums of money are involved. As a result of his efforts the conviction of several supply agents has been secured, while other cases are pending. In the course of his investigations head constable Adalat Khan has shown considerable detective ability which is all the more creditable as he was unaquainted with the country and people amongst whom he had to work. The valuable service he has rendered to Government in exposing the scandals in question has been acknowledged by the Military Authorities, the Consul in Sistan and the Political Agent, Chagai.

INDIAN ORDER OF MERIT.

No. 8.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to sanction the following promotions in, and admissions to, the Military Division of the Indian Order of Merit:—

For promotion to the 1st Class of the Order.

Subadar (Acting Subadar-Major) Sarbuland, I.O.M., Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry in action on the 5th August 1917, when he led his platoon in a most gallant manner, showing a fine example to his men under trying circumstances with complete indifference to personal danger. When all his British officers were missing or wounded, he continued to handle his men with judgment and coolness till the retirement was effected.

Jemadar Jai Lal, I.O.M., Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry, resource and devotion to duty in action on the 21st April 1917. The regiment having suffered heavy casualties, and some of the men having begun to withdraw, this Indian officer on his own initiative rallied them, led them forward in the face of severe fire, and re-took some of the ground lost. He has only two years' service, but has always shown a splendidexample of coolness under fire.

For admission to the 2nd Class of the Order.

Subadar-Major Wahid Ali Khan, Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry in action on the 30th June 1917. He commanded his platoon with great gallantry and skill against a superior enemy force at close range. Though exposed to very heavy rifle and machine gun fire he beat off numerous enemy attacks and counter-charged them. Throughout the action he displayed great courage and devotion to duty. He was wounded.

Subadar (Acting Subadar-Major) Muhammad Sulaiman Khan, Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry in action on the 3rd July 1917. He defeated an enemy post capturing two askaris and four rifles. This officer was acting independently and was twice wounded during the action.

Subadar Gul Zaman, Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry, great coolness and energy under heavy fire on the 19th July 1917. When all the British officers had become casualties he rallied his men and took them out of action. He is an excellent hardworking officer and has done good work throughout the war.

Jemadar Sundar Singh, Punjabis, for conspicuous gallantry and skill in handling machine gun sections in action on the 3rd August 1917, when the Machine Gun Officer was severely wounded. The enemy were attacking from both flanks and from the front at very close quarters but he succeeded in withdrawing all the machine guns except one and brought them back safely.

No. 653 Lance-Naik Shah Nawaz, Punjabis, for conspicuous gallantry in action on the 5th August 1917. When all the remainder of his machine gun detachment had become casualties, he worked his gun with perfect coolness for about two hours, within sixty yards of the enemy.

No. 3145 Lance-Dafadar Abdul Rahman Khan, Lancers, for conspicuous gallantry in action on the 28th June 1917. During the retirement of his squadron under heavy fire this non-commissioned officer was one of the rear party. Seeing that his officer, whose horse had been shot under him, was left behind with the enemy closing in on him from every side, he at once turned back to aid him. In doing so Lance-Dafadar Abdul Rahman Khan had his horse shot under him. He was last seen fighting by the side of the officer against an overwhelming number of the enemy; both he and the officer were killed.

His widow, if any, is admitted to the pension of the order with effect from the date of his death.

Subadar Abhaidatt Singh, Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry and resource in action on the 21st April 1917, when on his own initiative he led his men forward in the face of severe gun fire and re-took some lost ground; he handled them with great ability, and by his disregard of personal danger set a fine example of cool daring and devotion to duty. He has done splendid work throughout the war and been brought to notice for gallantry on many occasions.

No. 780 Naik Ali Akbar, Mule Corps, for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when in charge of part of a Bridging Train in action on the 25th March 1917. In the early morning the train came under heavy shell fire and he was wounded but by his courage and perseverance he largely assisted in getting the bridging equipment to a place of safety. Later in the day when it became necessary to make a second bridge over a canal he was sent up in charge of the material. The pontoons were again heavily shelled and damaged, and three out of four mules badly wounded. However, he went back and brought up fresh pontoons and mules and succeeded in delivering the material at the site, thereby enabling the bridge to be made.

Subadar Arjan Singh, Sikhs, for conspicuous gallantry and initiative in action on the 22nd April 1917 when, in company with a detachment of a British Regiment, he led a small party of his men against the enemy's trenches, sweeping on until he reached one of their batteries. He fought with the greatest determination; only the smallness of his numbers and the lack of reinforcements prevented the capture of the guns. He finally withdrew after the officer in command had insisted on his doing so, and brought back all the wounded with him. He has previously been brought to notice for gallantry in the field.

No. 2414 Lance-Naik Bishon Singh, Rifles, for conspicuous gallantry in action on the 22nd April 1917. Shortly after the first line was taken a strong counter-attack was made and this young non-commissioned officer was with his Lewis Gun team and a few other men in an advanced post. He held out until all except three were hit and he himself was wounded, and finding himself isolated owing to the right flank having been forced back by the counter-attack, he managed to get his gun back to the main line and re-opened fire. He has always behaved with the greatest gallantry and has been present in every action, except two, in which his regiment has been engaged since 1914. Whenever volunteers for any dangerous exploit have been called for he has always been the first to step forward.

No. 1078 Havildar Harnam Singh, Sikhs, and No. 4639 Sepoy Natha Singh, Sikhs. } for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action on the 23rd March 1917 when forming part of a patrol. On reaching a point 600 yards from the enemy's position they came under heavy fire, and having obtained the required information withdrew. On reaching cover, however, it was found that another sepoy of the patrol was missing. They both went back and found the sepoy lying wounded. Between them they succeeded in carrying him back to safety in spite of the fact that the enemy's fire was concentrated on them from front and flank and that enemy mounted troops were advancing to try and cut off the wounded man.

No. 1689 Sepoy Hazara Singh, Infantry, for conspicuous gallantry and initiative in action on 21st April 1917; when in charge of a Lewis Gun, by his skilful handling he was to a great extent responsible for re-taking a portion of the enemy's line from which some of our troops had been driven out. He then mounted his gun in the re-captured position and materially assisted in keeping down the fire of the enemy's machine guns, maintaining his position for the greater part of the day in spite of heavy fire until he was killed.

His widow, if any, is admitted to the pension of the order with effect from the date of his death.

No. 993 Havildar Kalya, Sikhs, for conspicuous gallantry and initiative in action on the 22nd April 1917 in volunteering to go back under heavy fire to bring up ammunition which was badly needed. His platoon was then at close quarters with the enemy and the mission was particularly hazardous.

Subadar Maghar Singh, Pioneers, for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action on the 25th March 1917. His Company Commander having become a casualty early in the day, he, although wounded, took command, and it was due to his fine leading and example that his company did so well. Although it had suffered heavy casualties it was one of the last units to withdraw. After withdrawing, this Indian officer was seen, although wounded in five places, helping to re-organise his company and get the wounded under cover. Two of his wounds were severe but he made no attempt to get them attended to.

No. 1031 Naik (Acting Havildar) Nikka Singh, Sikhs, for conspicuous gallantry and coolness in action on the 22nd April 1917, in bringing his Lewis Gun into action at close range under heavy fire. He exposed himself recklessly so as to obtain better fire positions, and checked an attempted enemy counter-attack. He also distinguished himself on a previous occasion and has done consistently well in every action.

No. 1057 Lance-Naik Rajwali, Punjabis, for conspicuous gallantry and initiative in action on the 21st April 1917, in leading the men of his platoon at a critical moment when his Indian officer had been killed. He distributed ammunition under heavy fire when it was most urgently needed. He has previously done fine work.

Subadar Rama, Punjabis, for conspicuous gallantry and ability in action on the 5th April 1917. He was sent out with ten men to reinforce a picquet of four men after a counter-attack, and finding large numbers of the enemy collecting under cover near by, at once advanced and dispersed them, although heavily fired on from close range He continued to control and direct an effective fire on the enemy. He has previously shown marked ability and gallantry.

No. 3729 Sepoy Ata Muhammad, Punjabis, for conspicuous gallantry and initiative in action on the 15th April 1917, in swimming across a canal, under fire, taking ammunition to a patrol which was being attacked on the other side. DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA

CALCUTTA, DECEMBER 29, 1917

First Forecast WINTER OILSEEDS (Rape, Mustard, and Linseed), 1917-18

This forecast is based upon reports received from those provinces where rape, mustard, and linseed are grown to any considerable extent. These provinces contain 96·8 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard and 98·9 per cent of the total linseed area in British India. Of the Native States, estimates are furnished only for Hyderabad and the States in the Bombay Presidency (including Baroda). No report is made by any other Native State.

The weather conditions have on the whole been favourable for sowings, although field operations were somewhat delayed in places owing to excessive moisture left in the soil by the heavy and continuous rains of September and October. The present condition and prospects of all the crops are on the whole from fair to good. A shower is now required in the Central Provinces and Berar for the linseed crop.

The total estimated area under rape and mustard reported up to date is 3,892,000 acres (excluding the mixed crop of the United Provinces for which no estimate is made at this stage). This is practically the same as reported at this time last year. The detailed figures for the provinces are :—

The following is a summary of the provincial reports in respect of each crop :—

(I) Rape and Mustard

United Provinces (40·2 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown with the unmixed rapeseed crop is estimated, on the basis of reports furnished by selected landholders, at 160,000 acres, which is 29 per cent below the area estimated at this date last year. No estimate of the area under rape and mustard sown interspersed with other crops is made at this time of year.* Moisture in the soil was everywhere ample for sowings, which were generally carried out under favourable conditions. Germination has been good and prospects are so far favourable.

Bengal (20·4 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown is estimated at 1,151,000 acres, which is 5 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. The rainfall in September was sufficient for the preparatory tillage, but heavy showers in the early part of October interfered with sowing operations, which were consequently delayed in most districts. The rainfall in the last week of October caused some damage to the crop on the area already sown. Subsequent dry weather, however, improved prospects, and the present condition of the crop is generally reported to be fair.

Punjab (17·1 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown up to the end of November is estimated at 1,051,000 acres, which is 5 per cent below the area estimated at the corresponding date of last year. The sowing season was generally favourable, except in the Lahore division, where excessive rain and floods interfered with sowing operations. The crops germinated well, and the prospects are generally good.

Bihar and Orissa (11·4 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown is at present estimated at 795,000 acres, which is 16 per cent above the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. Sowings were generally normal, except in some districts where they were delayed owing to excessive moisture left in the soil by the heavy rains of September and October. The present condition of the crop is reported to be fair to good.

Assam (4·7 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown is estimated at 279,000 acres, being 1 per cent below the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. The weather was favourable at sowing time except in Kamrup, Darrang, and Sibsagar, where heavy rain interfered with sowing operations. Since then the weather has become too dry for the growth of the crop in Nowgong and Sibsagar. In the Surma Valley the conditions have continued to be favourable. The average outturn per acre is at present estimated at 85 per cent of the normal, as against 80 per cent estimated in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Bombay and Sind (3·3 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The estimates are up to the 5th December, and the information then available was incomplete. The total area so far sown is reported to be 292,000 acres (23,000 acres being in the Native States), which is 6 per cent above the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. In Sind favourable inundation and ample rains have extended cultivation, except in the Larkana and Upper Sind Frontier districts, where, owing to heavy floods, lands remained under water at sowing time. The condition of the crop is reported to be fair to good. In the Gujarat States excessive moisture due to late rains restricted cultivation, but the condition of the crop is reported to be fair.

North-West Frontier Province (1·7 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The total area sown up to the end of November is estimated at 155,000 acres, as against 91,000 acres reported at this date last year, or an increase of 70 per cent. It is stated, however, that the area in the corresponding forecast of last year was under-estimated. The prospects of the crop are generally average at present.

Hyderabad reports 9,000 acres under mustard, which is 50 per cent above the area reported last year. The outturn is estimated at 56 per cent of the normal as against 49 per cent in the previous year.

(II) Linseed

Central Provinces and Berar (38·3 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The total area sown is estimated at 1,161,000 acres, which is 2 per cent above the area estimated at the corresponding date of last year. The monsoon, which gave ample rain till the end of October, left sufficient moisture in the seed-bed, and sowings were generally made under favourable conditions, except in places where excessive rain and subsequent abrupt break hardened the soil. Germination was successful, but some resowing was necessary in parts of Jubbulpore, Chanda, Wardha, and Drug. Prospects of the crop are at present generally favourable, but a shower of rain would be greatly beneficial.

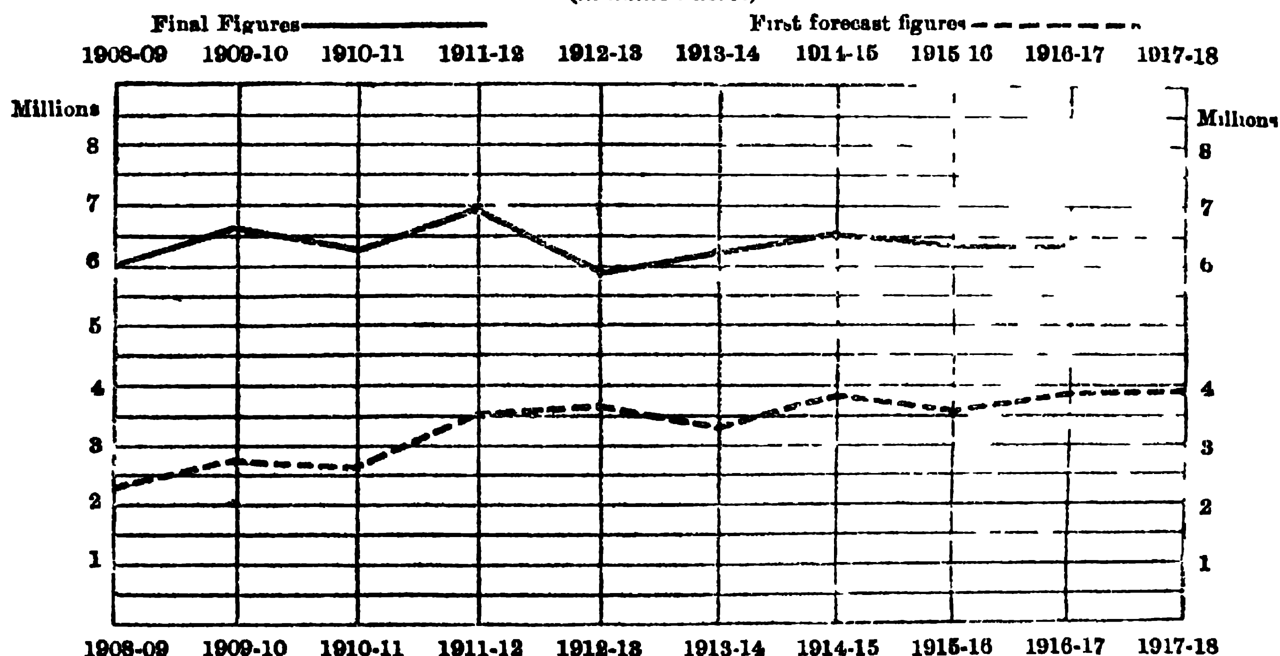
United Provinces (30·2 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—On the basis of reports furnished by selected landholders, the area under unmixed linseed is at present estimated at 350,000 acres, being about 15 per cent above the area estimated at this date last year. No estimate of the area under linseed sown interspersed with other crops is made at this time of year.† Sowings were generally carried out under favourable conditions, moisture in the soil being everywhere ample for the purpose. Germination has been good, and prospects are so far favourable.

* The area under rape and mustard sown interspersed with other crops, such as gram, barley, etc., is given in the final forecast published in June.

† The area under linseed sown interspersed with other crops, such as gram, barley, etc., is given in the final forecast published in June.

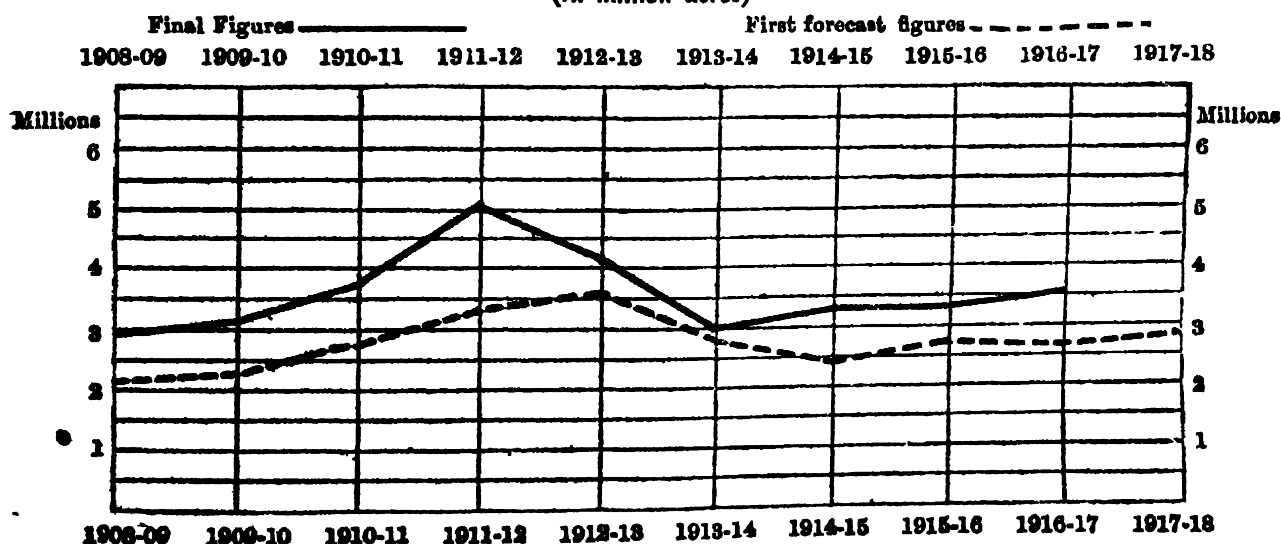
Bihar and Orissa (18·9 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The area sown is at present estimated at 732,000 acres, showing an increase of 28 per cent as compared with the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. In September and October the rainfall was above normal in most districts. In November also moderate to heavy rain fell in several districts. Sowings were generally normal, but in some districts they were delayed owing to excessive moisture left in the soil by the heavy late rains. The present condition of the crop is reported to be fair to good.

Bengal (5·6 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The total area under linseed is now estimated at 142,000 acres, being 7 per cent below the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. The decrease is attributed to excessive rainfall and floods at sowing time. Subsequent dry weather improved prospects, and the present condition of the crop is reported to be on the whole fair.



Bombay (4·7 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—Estimates are made up to the 5th December, and at that date the information as to sowings was, as in former years, incomplete. The total area so far sown is estimated at 103,000 acres (12,000 acres being in the Native States), which is 4 per cent below the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. Sowings were extended under favourable late rains, except in places in the Karnatak, where more area had been placed under cotton earlier in the season. The crop is reported to be at present doing well everywhere.

Punjab (1·2 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The area sown is at present estimated at 34,000 acres, being 6 per cent below the area estimated at the corresponding date of last year. As compared with the finally revised figure for last year, the present estimate shows an increase of 6 per cent. The crop germinated well and the prospects are generally good.

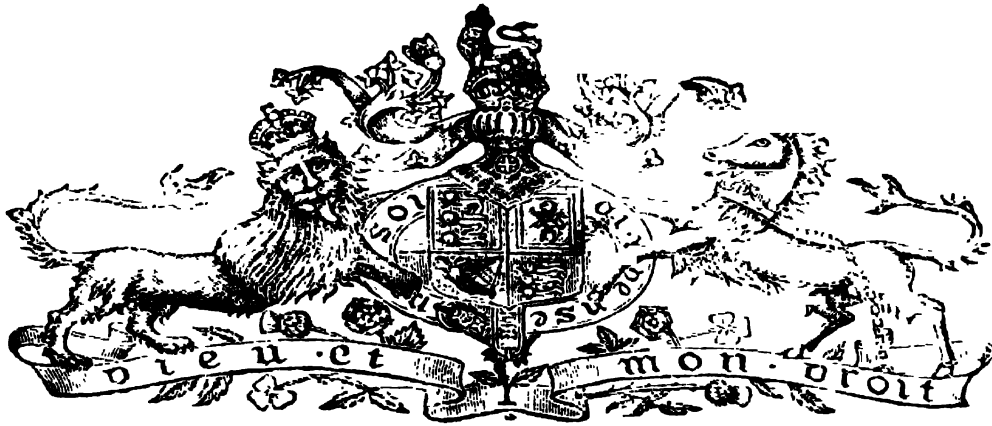


Hyderabad.—The total area under linseed is estimated at 305,000 acres, which is 5 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. Heavy and continuous rain during the month of October retarded sowing operations The average outturn is at present estimated at 61 per cent of the normal as against 65 per cent last year.

Chart.—The charts below illustrate the variations in the preliminary estimates of acreage, as compared with those in the final estimates, for all the reporting provinces in respect of each crop :—

(i) AREA OF RAPE AND MUSTARD
(In million acres)

(ii) AREA OF LINSEED
(In million acres)



Oilseeds crops in foreign countries.—The latest information published by the International Institute of Agriculture, Rome, shows that the estimates of the linseed crop of 1917 in the United States of America are 1,938,000 acres and 274,000 tons, as compared with 1,604,000 acres and 386,000 tons in the preceding year. The estimates for the Canadian crop of linseed are 920,000 acres and 171,000 tons, as against 605,000 acres and 178,000 tons in the previous year.

From unofficial sources it appears that in the Argentine prospects of the linseed crop are very encouraging and a bumper yield is expected from a larger area sown (3,310,000 acres against 3,206,000 acres last year).

MEMORANDUM ON THE PROBABLE CHARACTER OF THE WEATHER IN NORTHWEST INDIA IN JANUARY AND FEBRUARY, 1918.

The meteorological conditions in northwest India during the past three months have in some respects differed materially from those of an ordinary year. Near the end of October a storm from the Arabian Sea passed into the Punjab hills causing remarkably heavy rain over the tract from Gujarat to the east Punjab and abnormally heavy snow in Kulu and Lahoul. In November on the other hand conditions were even more settled than usual, and in Persia, where ordinarily cold weather rains begin early in the month, there was scarcely any rain. During December however disturbed weather occurred oftener than usual, and rain and snow were in decided excess generally in the north Punjab, Kashmir and the North-West Frontier Province.

2. The snowfall has been irregularly distributed. In Afghanistan heavy snow is reported to have fallen during the first fortnight of December on the Paghman hills and light snow on the ranges near Kabul. In the North-West Frontier Province, apart from Chitral where much snow fell on the higher ranges in the beginning of December, there has probably been less than the average amount; while in Kashmir the total fall of the past three months has been in considerable excess of the normal. In the Punjab Himalayas very heavy falls occurred down to unusually low levels in the Kulu hills towards the end of October and again on the 18th and 19th December; and there was also probably more than the usual quantity in the Simla Hills.

Summing up it may be said that in December although in some parts of the western Himalayas the falls have only been light to moderate, in others they have been unusually heavy and on the whole the snowfall has been in appreciable excess.

3. There is a tendency for heavy monsoon rain in December to be associated with delay in the establishment of the rains in northwest India. But although in the south of the Bay of Bengal weather has been rather more disturbed than usual during December, the total monsoon rainfall of the month in the Tenasserim and Madras coasts and the Andamans has been roughly normal. Thus no indication of abnormality is to be derived from this factor.

4. Another seasonal change which affords an indication is the establishment of the very strong winds which characterise the winter months at heights of five or six miles. Information from Agra is to the effect that the change this year is later and less marked than in 1914 before normal winter rains, but earlier and better marked than in 1915 and 1916 before very mild winters.

5. Summing up it would appear that the depressions from southeast Europe which give the cold weather rains in northwest India have in December given slightly less rain and snow than usual in Persia, but more in Baluchistan, the North-West Frontier Province, Kashmir and the Punjab. The indication from this is that the coming winter will be more disturbed than the average but not to a marked extent; and the view that the abnormality will not be large is supported by the information regarding the upper air, and the December monsoon rainfall.

6. The data accordingly point to the following conclusion :—

It is probable that the total amount of rainfall in northwest India and of snowfall on the neighbouring hills in January and February will be normal or in moderate excess.

OFFICE OF THE TEA COMMISSIONER FOR INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Government Purchase of Tea for the United Kingdom.

NORTHERN INDIA.

No. 2561 T. C.—Tenders are invited by the undersigned from Northern India Tea Companies and Tea Estates controlled in India (i.e., concerns the directors or proprietors of which are resident in India) for the supply of black tea for the United Kingdom up to the 31st May 1918. The total quantity required, including War Office requirements from the 1st January to the 31st May 1918, is approximately 40 per cent. of the total crop of 1917. Each estate may, therefore, tender any quantity up to 40 per cent. of its production in 1917, and should state whether a quantity in excess of 40 per cent. can be supplied if necessary. This percentage will include all tea shipped to England from Indian ports on private account on and after the 1st November 1917, which will be taken over by the Food Controller at the contract rates. It will also include all tea subsequently consigned to the Food Controller under interim arrangements pending the conclusion of contracts with estates. Only black tea will be taken. The percentage will apply to all grades of black tea produced including clean dust, estates being required to supply 40 per cent. of the total production of each grade in 1917, each invoice containing, as far as possible, the usual proportions of each grade. In the event of an estate being unable to supply the full required percentage of every grade the fact should be stated in the form of tender, and any adjustment necessary in price will be made before the contract is completed. All teas tendered will be liable to examination by experts in India, and, if the quality is not up to the previous standard of manufacture of the estate, to rejection or acceptance at a lower cost, such reduction being arranged by the undersigned in respect of concerns controlled in India and by the Food Controller in respect of concerns controlled in England. Garden weights will be accepted by the undersigned but the teas will be weighed on arrival in England by the Customs, and any adjustment in payment necessary will be made by the Food Controller through the Tea Commissioner. All teas will, also, be inspected in England and claims made by the Food Controller for damage in transit or defective packing. The usual system of packing, including the quality of the tea boxes and tea lead, must be maintained and boxes must be in sound condition before acceptance for shipment. 1916 tea will be accepted as part of the 40 per cent. allotment, provided it is shipped immediately. The price of 1916 tea shipped by London controlled estates will be arranged by the Food Controller in consultation with owners, while that of similar tea shipped by Indian controlled estates will be fixed by the undersigned at a reduced rate.

The contract price, which will be f.o.b. at the port of shipment, will be calculated as follows :—

I. Estates selling on the London market.—The average London auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, less ·90 of a penny for intermediate charges and cess and plus one halfpenny for increased cost of production, at rate of exchange 1*s.* 4*d.*

II. Estates selling on the Calcutta market.—The average Calcutta auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, plus one halfpenny or half an anna for increased cost of production and plus cost of shipping, and minus sale charges and other Calcutta charges. In order to obviate the labour of making detailed calculations in the case of each concern, the undersigned has, in consultation with the Indian Tea Association, decided that a net deduction of ·08 of an anna per lb. may be made to cover the difference between the cost of shipping and sale charges.

N.B.—The allowance for increased cost of production may be raised hereafter to three farthings, if the Food Controller is satisfied that the higher rate is justified.

III. Estates selling partly on the London and partly on the Calcutta market.—The average sale price realised in both markets in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 with the additions and deductions specified in I and II above.

IV. Estates selling their teas on markets other than the London and Calcutta markets, and partly on outside markets and partly in London or Calcutta, and new estates with no pre-war sales.—The prices paid for similar teas.

The average for the three years should be calculated by dividing the total sale-proceeds by the total crop for the three years, the result being worked out to two places of decimals of a penny or an anna as the case may be. Where a concern consists of two or more estates each manufacturing its own teas, separate figures should be furnished for each estate The figures submitted should, if possible, be certified as correct by a Chartered Accountant. In the case of concerns, the accounts of which are not audited by a Chartered Accountant, the figures of total crop sold and total sale-proceeds should, if possible, be certified by the Broker who sold the teas.

Teas will be paid for in India. Tea cess and (in the case of all tea except that consigned to the War Office which is exempted from the payment of export duty) export duty will be paid by the Food Controller and should be included in the bills of cost. The delivery of the amount contracted for will be taken in equal monthly instalments so far as freight arrangement permit, but, in any event, delivery in warehouse of the whole quantity will be taken and payment made on or before the 31st August 1918, payments made in August bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum from the 1st August. Producers will be responsible for warehouse charges and insurance for one month after the date specified by the undersigned for the arrival of the tea at the warehouse, the undersigned paying warehouse charges after that period but not insurance charges, as no insurance will be effected on Government teas.

In order to enable the undersigned to conclude the contracts with estates, the following information in respect of each estate controlled in India should be furnished to him without delay, on a form which will be supplied on application to this office or to the Secretaries, Indian Tea Association, Assam and Surma Valley Branches, Indian Tea Association, Duars, Terai and Darjeeling Planters Associations :—

COTTON PRESS RETURN.

No. 5 of 1917-18.

PREFATORY NOTE.

The Cotton Season 1917-18.

In the Cotton Forecast published on the 18th December, 1917, the yield of the crop is estimated at 3,938,000 bales on an area of 23,768,000 acres, as compared with 4,628,000 * bales on an area of 21,212,000 acres, the final figures of last year. There is a decrease of 15 per cent in outturn. It will be seen from the press return below that the cotton is coming in much slower than last year. There were 92,300 bales of cotton pressed in the pressing factories, and 65,200 bales received in the spinning mills, from 1st September to 15th November, 1917, as against 198,000 bales and 74,500 bales, respectively, during the corresponding period of last year. The figures for the Native States of Hyderabad, Central India, Rajputana and Mysore are, as will be seen from the footnotes to the tables, incomplete and have been omitted.

* This figure represents the sum of net exports and consumption. Net exports abroad from September 1916 to August 1917 were 2,083,000 bales, the mill consumption 1,795,000 bales, and the estimated extra-factory consumption 750,000 bales as accepted by the Bombay Cotton Trade Association.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS IN SELECTED ARTICLES IN NOVEMBER, 1917.

The object of the tables appended is to show the quantities of the principal staples of agricultural produce imported from the various provinces, etc., and from foreign countries into the ports of Calcutta, Bombay, and Karachi, and into the Madras ports during the month of November, 1917, and for the eight months, April to November, 1917, as compared with the corresponding periods of 1916. The statistics include foreign sea-borne and coasting trade as well as inland (rail and river-borne) trade. They have been furnished by Collectors of Customs, Steamer Companies, Railway Audit Officers, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, etc.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS IN NOVEMBER, 1916 AND 1917.

It will be seen from Table I, that the imports by rail, river, and sea in November, 1917, as against the corresponding month of 1916, show (in round numbers) a decrease of—

76 per cent in linseed
(5,900 tons as against 24,600 tons last year),

54 per cent in jute
(360,000 bales as against 784,800 bales last year),

54 per cent in raw cotton
(151,000 bales as against 325,800 bales last year),

47 per cent in rape and mustard seed
(9,700 tons as against 18,500 tons last year), and

29 per cent in wheat (excluding wheat flour)
(95,700 tons as against 134,200 tons last year),

The imports of tea by rail, river, and sea into Calcutta show an increase of 81 per cent (42,937,600 lbs as against 23,769,300 lbs last year), due mainly to larger exports from Assam and Bengal. The increase of 77 per cent (75,300 tons as against 42,500 tons last year) in the imports into ports of gram and pulse is accounted for by larger receipts mainly from the United Provinces and the Punjab. The imports of rice (including paddy) represent an increase of 20 per cent (108,700 tons as against 90,700 tons last year) owing to larger exports mainly from Bengal.

It will be seen from Table IV (wheat, excluding wheat flour) that the principal source of the imports in November, 1916, was the Punjab. During the corresponding month of 1917, the Punjab sent by far the largest quantity, namely, 43 per cent of the total.

NOTE.—One bale of cotton or jute is equivalent to 400 lbs.
One maund is equivalent to 82⅐ lbs.
One maund of paddy is taken as equivalent to 25 seers of rice.

GENERAL RESULTS—EIGHT MONTHS' IMPORTS INTO THE PORTS FROM UP COUNTRY, ETC., THIS YEAR AND LAST YEAR.

The eight months' figures in table I show (in round numbers) a decrease of—

63 per cent in linseed

(114,600 tons as against 306,000 tons last year),

33 per cent in rape and mustard seed

(91,700 tons as against 136,100 tons last year),

32 per cent in jute

(2,563,600 bales as against 3,750,100 bales last year),

8 per cent in rice (including paddy)

(645,400 tons as against 700,700 tons last year), and

3 per cent in tea

(189,933,500 lbs. as against 195,038,400 lbs. last year).

The imports of gram and pulse by rail, river, and sea into ports show an increase of 91 per cent (541,400 tons as against 283,300 tons last year), mainly on account of larger exports from the Punjab and the United Provinces. The increase of 68 per cent (1,611,100 tons as against 958,200 tons last year) in wheat (excluding wheat flour) is accounted for by larger receipts chiefly from the Punjab, the United Provinces, and Rajputana and Central India. The imports of raw cotton show a rise of 31 per cent (2,006,300 bales as against 1,529,900 bales last year), owing to larger exports principally from Bombay.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS IN NOVEMBER, 1917, AS COMPARED WITH THE PREVIOUS MONTH.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA

CALCUTTA, JANUARY 15, 1918

Final General Memorandum on the SESAMUM (til or jinjili) crop of 1917-18.

This memorandum is based upon reports received from provinces which contain, on an average, 77 per cent * of the total area under sesamum in British India. Of the Native States, estimates are furnished by Hyderabad and the States in the Bombay Presidency (including Baroda). The present estimates are final for all the provinces and Native States, except Madras and Hyderabad. A supplementary memorandum will be issued in April, containing the final estimates for Madras and Hyderabad.

The total area reported amounts to 4,094,000 acres, which is 18 per cent less than the revised area at this time last year.

The total yield is estimated at 340,000 tons (excluding Hyderabad for which no estimate of outturn is made at this date). This is 26 per cent below the revised estimate on this date last year. The detailed figures for the provinces are :—

The season, on the whole, has not been favourable, the crop having been adversely affected by the heavy and continuous rain of September and October in almost all provinces.

The provincial reports are summarised below :—

United Provinces (24·7 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area under sesamum sown unmixed is reported to be 187,000 acres as against 278,000 acres last year, or a decrease of 33 per cent. The decrease was general in all districts where sesamum is mainly grown, except in Mirzapur. The total yield of the unmixed crop is estimated at 15,000 tons, which is 46 per cent below last year's yield. The area and yield of sesamum, sown in combination with other crops and largely retained for local consumption, are roughly estimated at 850,000 acres and 67,000 tons as against 1,000,000 acres and 80,000 tons last year. In the western districts and Bundelkhand the crop was severely damaged by heavy rain at the end of September and, in parts of the latter division, was completely destroyed. In the eastern districts the outturn, though better, was below normal. For the province as a whole the average outturn per acre is estimated at 60 per cent of the normal as compared with 80 per cent last year.

Central Provinces and Berar (16·9 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area is estimated at 502,000 acres (65,000 acres being in Berar), which is 34 per cent below that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 30,000 tons (6,000 tons being in Berar), which is 46 per cent below last year's yield. The weather conditions were not, on the whole, favourable for the crop. The excessive and continuous rain of September and October considerably damaged the crop and everywhere reduced the yield. The average outturn for the provinces is estimated at 62 per cent of normal.

Madras (16·2 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area sown up to 1st January is estimated at 630,000 acres as against 750,000 acres estimated at this date last year, or a decrease of 16 per cent. The total outturn is estimated at 84,000 tons, which is 5 per cent above the estimate made at this time last year. The yield has been good in the Circars, but poor in the Carnatic where continued rains damaged the crop at flowering. On the average a normal yield may be expected.

Bombay (5·5 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area is reported to be 775,000 acres (602,000 acres being in the Native States), which is 14 per cent below that of last year. The decrease is attributed to incessant heavy rains at sowing time in Gujarat and to deficient rainfall in the Deccan and Karnatak. The decline is also partly due to more attention being paid to the highly paying crop of cotton. The yield is estimated at 77,000 tons (59,000 tons being in the Native States), which is 37 per cent below last year's yield. In Gujarat continuous heavy rains after sowing rotted the early crop in places and somewhat restricted the sowing of the late crop. The early crop has yielded only a poor outturn, but the late crop is improving under the present favourable weather and may yield better. The crop in the Deccan suffered in the beginning from a prolonged break. It revived by subsequent rains, but was again damaged by excessive rains at the bearing and harvesting periods particularly in the north and east. The outturn is expected to be poor to fair. In the Karnatak the crop suffered at first from deficient rains in the east, but has since improved, and is estimated to yield a fair to good outturn. The crop in the Konkan progressed well, and, although damaged in places by excessive rains at the close of the season, has yielded a fair to good outturn.

Bengal (5·1 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area under both early and late crops now amounts to 225,000 acres, which is 1 per cent above that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 25,000 tons, which is 4 per cent above last year's yield. The weather was generally favourable for the early crop in

(a) The estimates for Madras and Hyderabad are not final. (b) Including Native States. (c) Excluding Hyderabad.

* The area under sesamum in Burma is excluded. On an average this is over 22 per cent of the area under sesamum in British India.

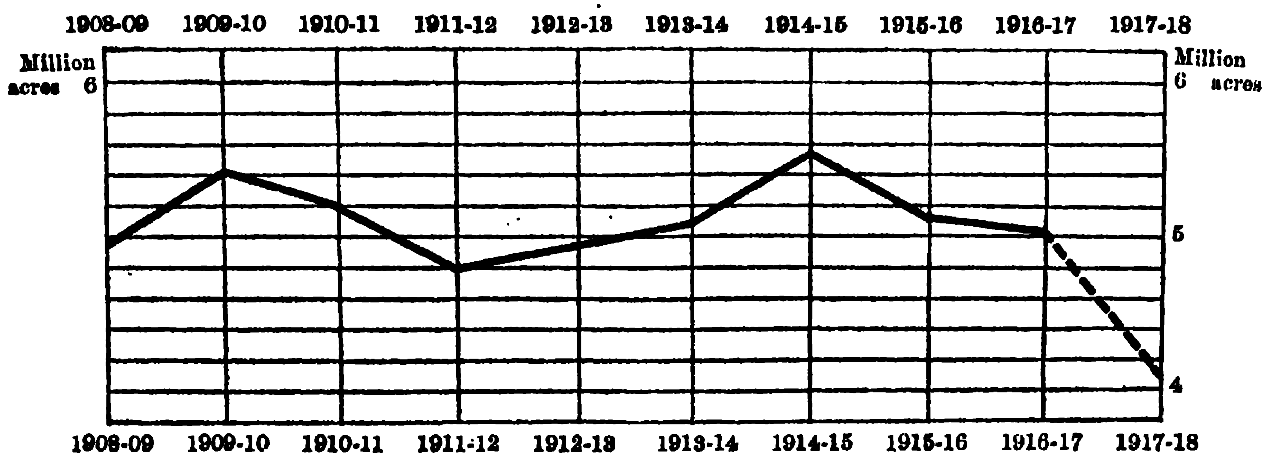
Western Bengal, but in Eastern Bengal the rainfall was deficient at sowing time, and excessive at the time of harvest. The late crop was damaged by excessive rain and floods in October; and although the dry weather in November improved the crop on later sown areas, the season, on the whole, has been unfavourable. The average outturn per acre is estimated at 70 per cent of the normal for the early crop and 74 per cent for the late crop.

Bihar and Orissa (4·1 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area sown with both early and late crops now amounts to 190,000 acres, which is 0·5 per cent above that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 27,000 tons, which is 13 per cent below that of last year. The weather conditions have been favourable in most districts, but in the important districts of Sambalpur, Angul, and Gaya some damage has been done to the crop by excessive rain. The average outturn per acre is estimated at about normal for the early crop and 90 per cent for the late crop.

Punjab (2·9 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area is reported to be 136,000 acres, which is 45 per cent below that of last year. The decrease is partly due to excessive rains at sowing time, which interfered with sowing operations in most districts, and partly to the fact that owing to a favourable season an exceptionally large area was placed under the crop, last year. The total yield is estimated at 12,000 tons which is 60 per cent short of last year's yield. The season was not favourable. The crop was damaged by excessive rains and floods in September and October, and the yield was generally below normal or poor.

Sind (1·2 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area is estimated at 39,000 acres (1,000 acres being in the Native State of Khairpur), which is 8 per cent above that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 3,000 tons, which is the same as that of last year. The crop is reported to be fair.

Ajmer-Merwara (0·3 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area is reported to be 25,000 acres as against 39,000 acres last year. The yield is estimated at only 200 tons as compared with 3,000 tons last year. The crop was considerably damaged by excessive rain.



Hyderabad reports 535,000 acres, which is 6 per cent short of the area reported at this date last year. The yield is estimated at 38 per cent of the normal as against 57 per cent last year.

Chart.—The charts below show the present estimates of the total area and yield, as compared with the final figures of the preceding nine years.

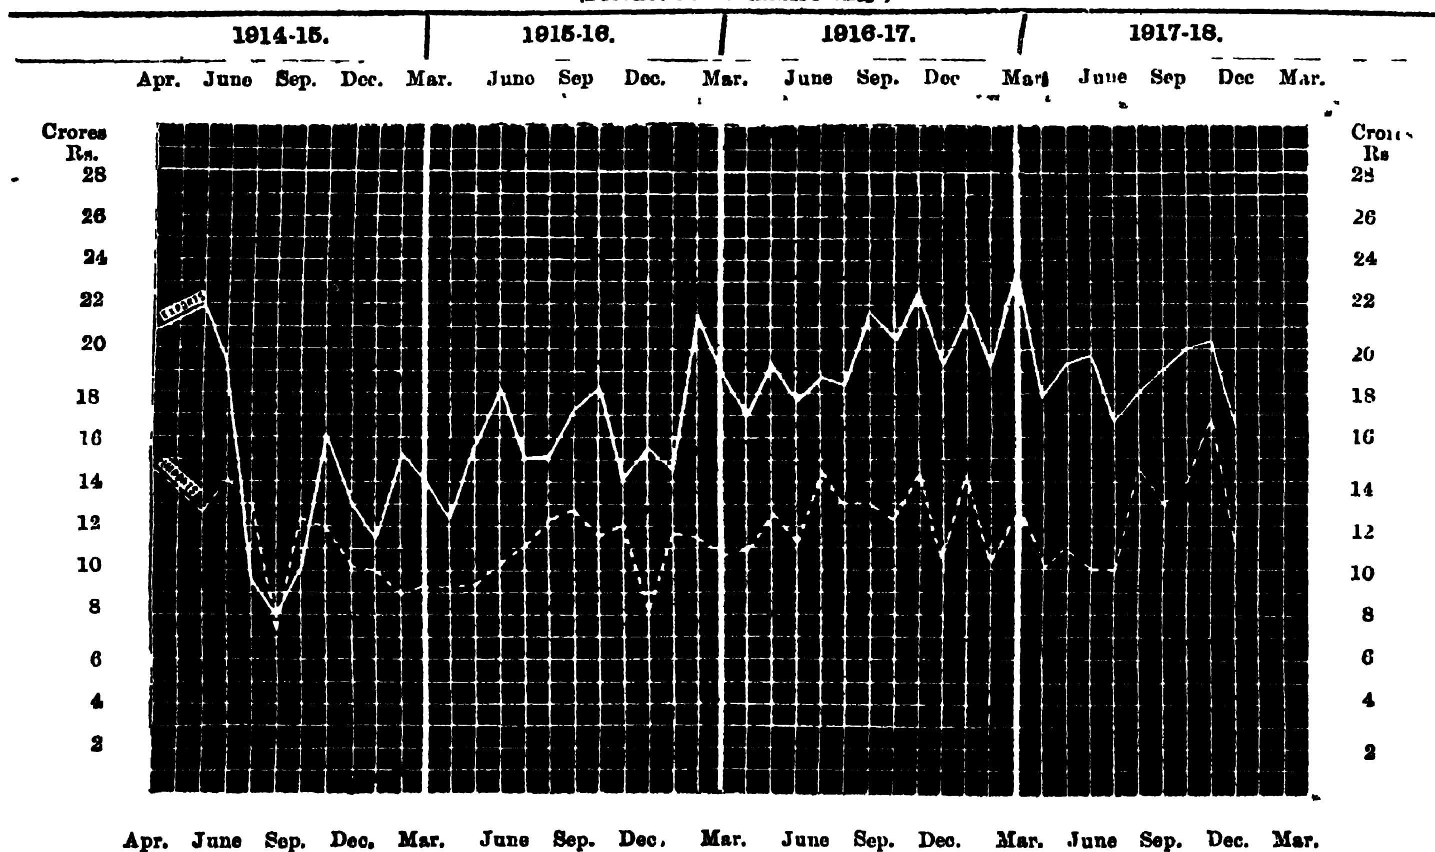
FOREIGN SEA-BORNE TRADE DURING DECEMBER, 1917.

REVIEW of the SEA-BORNE TRADE and NAVIGATION of BRITISH INDIA for the month of DECEMBER, 1917, and for the nine months ended December, 1917.

FOREIGN COMMERCE.



FOREIGN SEA-BORNE TRADE DURING DECEMBER, 1917.

The trade returns of British India for December, 1917, as compared with those of the preceding month, showed a great decrease in the value of the imports which were valued at over R11 crores as against nearly R17 crores in the preceding month. It may, however, be noted that there were several non-working days in December including five Sundays and the Christmas holidays. The value of the total exports and re-exports also decreased, the exports, including those of wheat, tanned cow hides, and other articles of national importance on Government account, being valued at over R16 crores, and the re-exports at nearly R58 lakhs. Imports decreased by 32 per cent, exports by 17 per cent, and re-exports by 29 per cent. As compared with December, 1916, imports showed an increase of 8 per cent, while exports showed a decrease of 13 per cent and re-exports of 3 per cent. A review of the nine months' trade of the present financial year will be found on page 6.

The chart showing the course of monthly imports and exports, including re-exports, from April, 1914, to December, 1917, is appended below :—

TRADE IN THE NINE MONTHS OF 1917-18.

If a review is made of the trade of India for the nine months of the present financial year as compared with the corresponding period, April to December, of 1916, the most noticeable features are the large decrease in the value of the exports of raw and manufactured jute, and a corresponding increase in the value of imported piece goods. Another feature (probably the result of the high rate of freights) is the large increase in the imports by parcel post. Imports of sugar, railway materials, kerosene oil, motor cars, biscuits, and canned and bottled provisions show considerable decreases in value and in quantity, while imports of matches and cigarettes increased. In our export trade the outstanding feature is the increase in the value of exports of food grains and a large decrease in linseed as compared with the record exports in the previous year. While exports of tanned hides increased, tanned skins and raw hides and skins considerably decreased. The balance of trade, too, if all available items be included, is righting itself—the balance actually being an adverse balance as against a favourable balance in the corresponding period of last year.

Comparing the values of the imports and exports during the nine months ended December, 1917, with those in the corresponding period of 1916, the chief increases and decreases are as follows:—

There were 22,677 deaths from plague reported during the week under report, an increase of 50 per cent. over the number reported in the last published statement. Some of the increase is explained by the incompleteness of the returns submitted for the week ending December 29, 1917, but after making due allowance for this, the increase in mortality is somewhat more rapid than experience leads one to expect at this time of the year.

The United Provinces, where infection is very widespread, are responsible for more than a third of the total deaths and, as is usual in January, the incidence is greatest in the eastern districts of these provinces. The outbreak here promises to be severe.

The disease in Rajputana continues to increase in severity.

Early improvement can be looked for in the southern and central divisions of the Bombay Presidency, Central Provinces and Central India, but in Bihar and Orissa and the United Provinces the outbreak will not reach its height before the end of March and in the Punjab not before the middle of April.

Harvesting of cotton and white beans has commenced and that of millet is progressing. Standing crops are good. Cattle are healthy. The price of unhusked rice in Rangoon has risen slightly to Rs. 95 per hundred baskets but is below normal. The market for white rice is quiet at Rs. 242 and annas eight for specials.

Assam.—The weather was seasonable. Harvesting of winter rice is almost finished. Pruning of tea, plucking of cotton, pressing of sugarcane, harvesting of pulses and ploughing of autumn rice and jute continue. Prospects and outturn of crops are fair to good. Cattle disease is reported from three districts. The price of common rice continues to fall.

Bengal.—During the week light scattered showers fell in a few places of the province. Threshing of winter paddy is approaching completion, a good outturn has been reaped. Ploughing of fields for jute and autumn paddy and pressing of sugarcane are proceeding. Harvesting of potatoes and early oilseeds and transplanting of summer rice have commenced. The outlook of standing spring crops is generally good but some rain is needed in certain districts for their growth. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 1·09 per cent. from that of the preceding week.

Bihar and Orissa.—Light rain fell in most districts of the Bhagalpur, Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions. There was no rain in the Patna and Tirhoot Divisions. Harvesting of paddy is nearly finished. Threshing is in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Standing crops are doing well. The price of common rice has fallen in four districts, risen in six and remained stationary in the remaining districts as compared with that of the preceding week. Cattle disease is reported from twelve districts. The condition of standing crops in the Feudatory States of Orissa is good.

United Provinces.—Light rain fell in some districts. More is urgently needed. Land is being prepared for sugarcane. Irrigation of spring crops and poppy continues. Pressing of sugarcane is going on. Standing crops are good. Prospects are favourable. Agricultural stock is doing well. Very little cattle disease is reported. Prices are practically stationary.

Punjab.—Light rain fell in parts of nearly all the reporting districts and was beneficial More rain is wanted everywhere for standing spring crops. Pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of toria continue The yield of sugarcane is normal to good and of toria normal. Condition of standing spring crops is good. Sowings of extra spring crops have commenced in a few districts. Stocks of food grains are generally sufficient. Cattle are healthy. Fodder is scarce in a few districts. Prices are generally stationary but have risen slightly in some districts. Chhattisgarh districts received light showers which improved the condition of spring crops in those tracts, elsewhere standing crops are generally in good condition at present but more rain is badly needed for wheat. Autumn harvesting operations are approaching completion Prices of food grains are rising slightly in Chanda. The price of rice has risen sharply owing probably to brisk demand for export.

OFFICE OF THE TEA COMMISSIONER FOR INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Government Purchase of Tea for the United Kingdom.

NORTHERN INDIA.

No. 2561 T. C.—Tenders are invited by the undersigned from Northern India Tea Companies and Tea Estates controlled in India (i.e., concerns the directors or proprietors of which are resident in India) for the supply of black tea for the United Kingdom up to the 31st May 1918. The total quantity required, including War Office requirements from the 1st January to the 31st May 1918, is approximately 40 per cent. of the total crop of 1917. Each estate may, therefore, tender any quantity up to 40 per cent. of its production in 1917, and should state whether a quantity in excess of 40 per cent. can be supplied if necessary. This percentage will include all tea shipped to England from Indian ports on private account on and after the 1st November 1917, which will be taken over by the Food Controller at the contract rates. It will also include all tea subsequently consigned to the Food Controller under interim arrangements pending the conclusion of contracts with estates. Only black tea will be taken. The percentage will apply to all grades of black tea produced including clean dust, estates being required to supply 40 per cent. of the total production of each grade in 1917, each invoice containing, as far as possible, the usual proportions of each grade. In the event of an estate being unable to supply the full required percentage of every grade the fact should be stated in the form of tender, and any adjustment necessary in price will be made before the contract is completed. All teas tendered will be liable to examination by experts in India, and, if the quality is not up to the previous standard of manufacture of the estate, to rejection or acceptance at a lower cost, such reduction being arranged by the undersigned in respect of concerns controlled in India and by the Food Controller in respect of concerns controlled in England. Garden weights will be accepted by the undersigned but the teas will be weighed on arrival in England by the Customs, and any adjustment in payment necessary will be made by the Food Controller through the Tea Commissioner. All teas will, also, be inspected in England and claims made by the Food Controller for damage in transit or defective packing. The usual system of packing, including the quality of the tea boxes and tea lead, must be maintained and boxes must be in sound condition before acceptance for shipment. 1916 tea will be accepted as part of the 40 per cent. allotment, provided it is shipped immediately. The price of 1916 tea shipped by London controlled estates will be arranged by the Food Controller in consultation with owners, while that of similar tea shipped by Indian controlled estates will be fixed by the undersigned at a reduced rate.

The contract price, which will be f.o.b. at the port of shipment, will be calculated as follows :—

I. Estates selling on the London market.—The average London auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, less ·90 of a penny for intermediate charges and cess and plus one halfpenny for increased cost of production, at rate of exchange 1*s*. 4*d*.

II. Estates selling on the Calcutta market.—The average Calcutta auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, plus one halfpenny or half an anna for increased cost of production and plus cost of shipping, and minus sale charges and other Calcutta charges. In order to obviate the labour of making detailed calculations in the case of each concern, the undersigned has, in consultation with the Indian Tea Association, decided that a net deduction of ·08 of an anna per lb. may be made to cover the difference between the cost of shipping and sale charges.

N.B.—The allowance for increased cost of production may be raised hereafter to three farthings, if the Food Controller is satisfied that the higher rate is justified.

III. Estates selling partly on the London and partly on the Calcutta market.—The average sale price realised in both markets in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 with the additions and deductions specified in I and II above.

IV. Estates selling their teas on markets other than the London and Calcutta markets, and partly on outside markets and partly in London or Calcutta, and new estates with no pre-war sales.—The prices paid for similar teas.

The average for the three years should be calculated by dividing the total sale-proceeds by the total crop for the three years, the result being worked out to two places of decimals of a penny or an anna as the case may be. Where a concern consists of two or more estates each manufacturing its own teas, separate figures should be furnished for each estate The figures submitted should, if possible, be certified as correct by a Chartered Accountant. In the case of concerns, the accounts of which are not audited by a Chartered Accountant, the figures of total crop sold and total sale-proceeds should, if possible, be certified by the Broker who sold the teas.

Teas will be paid for in India. Tea cess and (in the case of all tea except that consigned to the War Office which is exempted from the payment of export duty) export duty will be paid by the Food Controller and should be included in the bills of cost. The delivery of the amount contracted for will be taken in equal monthly instalments so far as freight arrangement permit, but, in any event, delivery in warehouse of the whole quantity will be taken and payment made on or before the 31st August 1918, payments made in August bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum from the 1st August. Producers will be responsible for warehouse charges and insurance for one month after the date specified by the undersigned for the arrival of the tea at the warehouse, the undersigned paying warehouse charges after that period but not insurance charges, as no insurance will be effected on Government teas.

In order to enable the undersigned to conclude the contracts with estates, the following information in respect of each estate controlled in India should be furnished to him without delay, on a form which will be supplied on application to this office or to the Secretaries, Indian Tea Association, Assam and Surma Valley Branches, Indian Tea Association, Duars, Terai and Darjeeling Planters Associations :—

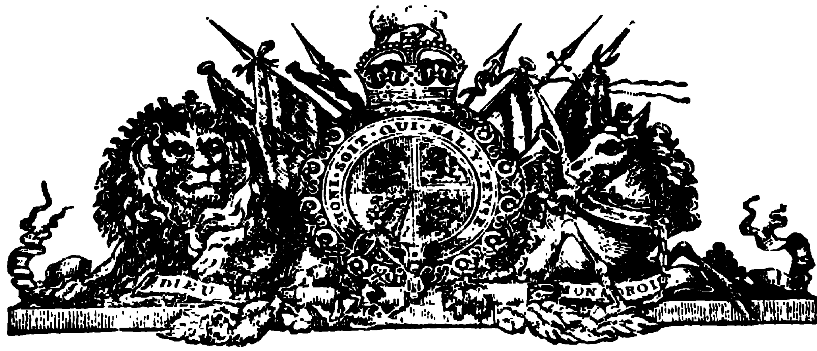
The number of plague deaths reported in India during the week ending the 19th of January 1918, was 25,433, an increase of 1,074 over the total for the preceding week. In no week in January during the 12 years 1906-1917 has the plague mortality approximated that of the week under report, the next highest figures being 20,929 and 20,167 for the last and third weeks of January 1911 and 13,685 for the third week of January 1917.



Increased mortality, as compared with the previous week, is reported from Madras, Bihar and Orissa and Rajputana. The United Provinces with 7,225 deaths, 53 fewer than in the previous week, continued to head the list, being responsible for nearly 30 per cent. of the total plague mortality of India. It is worthy of note that during the last two months Vizagapatam Port, situated on the hitherto plague free eastern sea-board of the Madras Presidency, has reported 116 deaths from plague.

OFFICE OF THE TEA COMMISSIONER FOR INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Government Purchase of Tea for the United Kingdom.

NORTHERN INDIA.

No. 2561 T. C.—Tenders are invited by the undersigned from Northern India Tea Companies and Tea Estates controlled in India (i.e., concerns the directors or proprietors of which are resident in India) for the supply of black tea for the United Kingdom up to the 31st May 1918. The total quantity required, including War Office requirements from the 1st January to the 31st May 1918, is approximately 40 per cent. of the total crop of 1917. Each estate may, therefore, tender any quantity up to 40 per cent. of its production in 1917, and should state whether a quantity in excess of 40 per cent. can be supplied if necessary. This percentage will include all tea shipped to England from Indian ports on private account on and after the 1st November 1917, which will be taken over by the Food Controller at the contract rates. It will also include all tea subsequently consigned to the Food Controller under interim arrangements pending the conclusion of contracts with estates. Only black tea will be taken. The percentage will apply to all grades of black tea produced including clean dust, estates being required to supply 40 per cent. of the total production of each grade in 1917, each invoice containing, as far as possible, the usual proportions of each grade. In the event of an estate being unable to supply the full required percentage of every grade the fact should be stated in the form of tender, and any adjustment necessary in price will be made before the contract is completed. All teas tendered will be liable to examination by experts in India, and, if the quality is not up to the previous standard of manufacture of the estate, to rejection or acceptance at a lower cost, such reduction being arranged by the undersigned in respect of concerns controlled in India and by the Food Controller in respect of concerns controlled in England. Garden weights will be accepted by the undersigned but the teas will be weighed on arrival in England by the Customs, and any adjustment in payment necessary will be made by the Food Controller through the Tea Commissioner. All teas will, also, be inspected in England and claims made by the Food Controller for damage in transit or defective packing. The usual system of packing, including the quality of the tea boxes and tea lead, must be maintained and boxes must be in sound condition before acceptance for shipment. 1916 tea will be accepted as part of the 40 per cent. allotment, provided it is shipped immediately. The price of 1916 tea shipped by London controlled estates will be arranged by the Food Controller in consultation with owners, while that of similar tea shipped by Indian controlled estates will be fixed by the undersigned at a reduced rate.

The contract price, which will be f.o.b. at the port of shipment, will be calculated as follows :—

I. Estates selling on the London market.—The average London auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, less ·90 of a penny for intermediate charges and cess and plus one halfpenny for increased cost of production, at rate of exchange 1*s.* 4*d.*

II. Estates selling on the Calcutta market.—The average Calcutta auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, plus one halfpenny or half an anna for increased cost of production and plus cost of shipping, and minus sale charges and other Calcutta charges. In order to obviate the labour of making detailed calculations in the case of each concern, the undersigned has, in consultation with the Indian Tea Association, decided that a net deduction of ·08 of an anna per lb. may be made to cover the difference between the cost of shipping and sale charges.

N.B.—The allowance for increased cost of production may be raised hereafter to three farthings, if the Food Controller is satisfied that the higher rate is justified.

III. Estates selling partly on the London and partly on the Calcutta market. The average sale price realised in both markets in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 with the additions and deductions specified in I and II above.

IV. Estates selling their teas on markets other than the London and Calcutta markets, and partly on outside markets and partly in London or Calcutta, and new estates with no pre-war sales.—The prices paid for similar teas.

The average for the three years should be calculated by dividing the total sale-proceeds by the total crop for the three years, the result being worked out to two places of decimals of a penny or an anna as the case may be. Where a concern consists of two or more estates each manufacturing its own teas, separate figures should be furnished for each estate The figures submitted should, if possible, be certified as correct by a Chartered Accountant. In the case of concerns, the accounts of which are not audited by a Chartered Accountant, the figures of total crop sold and total sale-proceeds should, if possible, be certified by the Broker who sold them.

Teas will be paid for in India. Tea cess and (in the case of all tea except that consigned to the War Office which is exempted from the payment of export duty) export duty will be paid by the Food Controller and should be included in the bills of cost. The delivery of the amount contracted for will be taken in equal monthly instalments so far as freight arrangement permit, but, in any event, delivery in warehouse of the whole quantity will be taken and payment made on or before the 31st August 1918, payments made in August bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum from the 1st August. Producers will be responsible for warehouse charges and insurance for one month after the date specified by the undersigned for the arrival of the tea at the warehouse, the undersigned paying warehouse charges after that period but not insurance charges, as no insurance will be effected on Government teas.

In order to enable the undersigned to conclude the contracts with estates, the following information in respect of each estate controlled in India should be furnished to him without delay, on a form which will be supplied on application to this office or to the Secretaries, Indian Tea Association, Assam and Surma Valley Branches, Indian Tea Association, Duars, Terai and Darjeeling Planters Associations :—

FOR INDIA,

Calcutta, the 7th January 1918.

W. M. KENNEDY, Lt.-Col.,
Tea Commissioner for India.

SOUTHERN INDIA.

No. 3364 T. C.—Tenders are invited by the undersigned from Southern India Tea Companies and Tea Estates controlled in India (i.e., concerns the directors or proprietors of which are resident in India) for the supply of black tea for the United Kingdom up to the 31st May 1918. The total quantity required, including War Office requirements from the 1st January to the 31st May 1918, is approximately 40 per cent. of the total crop of 1917. Each estate may, therefore, tender any quantity up to 40 per cent. of its production in 1917. In the case of Southern India, however, where many new estates or extensions are coming into bearing, the total quantity to be taken will be equivalent to 40 per cent. of the 1917 crop, which is estimated to be equal to about 33 per cent. of the probable 1918 crop. Southern India concerns may, therefore, tender a quantity equivalent either to 40 per cent. of their 1917 crop or to 33 per cent. of their estimated 1918 crop, the actual tea supplied in either case being of either the 1917 or the 1918 crop or of both estimates of 1818 production will be passed by the Advisory Committee. If an estate can supply more than the above quantity the fact should be stated in the tender. The percentage taken will include all tea shipped to England from Indian or Ceylon ports on private account on and after the 1st November 1917, which will be taken over by the Food Controller at the contract rates. It will also include all tea subsequently consigned to the Food Controller under interim arrangements pending the conclusion of contracts with estates. Only black tea will be taken. The percentage will apply to all grades of black tea produced, including clean dust, estates being required to supply 40 per cent. of the total production of each grade in 1917, each invoice containing, as far as possible, the usual proportions of each grade. In the event of any estate being unable to supply the full required proportion of every grade manufactured, this fact should be stated in the tender, and any adjustment in price necessary will be made before the contract is concluded. Southern India estates tendering 1918 teas, manufactured within the period of this contract, would be required when manufacturing such teas not to alter previous methods of plucking but to maintain the previous proportion of each grade and to mill all large leaf teas. All teas tendered will be liable to examination by experts in India, and, if the quality is not up to the previous standard of manufacture of the estate, to rejection or acceptance at a lower cost, such reduction being arranged by the undersigned in respect of concerns controlled in India and by the Food Controller in respect of concerns controlled in England. Garden weights will be accepted by the undersigned, but the teas will be weighed on arrival in England by the Customs and any adjustment in payment necessary will be made by the Food Controller through the Tea Commissioner. All teas will, also, be inspected in England and claims made by the Food Controller for damage in transit or defective packing. The usual system of packing, including the quality of the tea boxes and tea lead, must be maintained and boxes must be in sound condition before acceptance for shipment.

The contract price, which will be f. o. b. at the port of shipment, will be calculated as follows:—

I.—Estates selling on the London market.—The average London auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 less ·90 of a penny for intermediate charges and cess and plus one halfpenny for increased cost of production at rate of exchange 1*s*. 4*d*.

II.—Estates selling on the Calcutta or Colombo market.—The average Calcutta or Colombo auction price realised in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, plus one halfpenny or half an anna for increased cost of production and plus cost of shipping (i.e., cost of shipping at Calcutta or South Indian ports), and minus sale charges, and other Calcutta or Colombo charges. In order to obviate the labour of making detailed calculations in the case of each concern, the undersigned has decided that as regards tea sold in Calcutta and Colombo a net deduction of ·08 of an anna per lb. may be made to cover the difference between the cost of shipping and sale charges.

III.—Estates selling partly on the London and partly on the Calcutta or Colombo market.—The average sale price realised in both markets in the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 with the additions and deductions specified in I and II above.

IV.—Estates selling their teas on markets other than the London and Calcutta or Colombo markets, and partly on outside markets and partly in London or Calcutta and Colombo and estates with no pre-war sales.—The prices paid for similar teas.

The figures submitted should, if possible, be certified as correct by a Chartered Accountant. In the case of concerns, the accounts of which are not audited by a Chartered Accountant, the figures of total crop sold and total sale-proceeds should, if possible, be certified by the Broker who sold the teas or by the Advisory Committee.

Teas will be paid for in India. Tea cess and (in the case of all tea except that consigned to the War Office which is exempted from the payment of export duty) export duty will be paid by the Food Controller and should be included in the bills of cost. Producers will be responsible for warehouse charges and insurance for one month after the date specified by the undersigned for the arrival of the tea at the warehouse, the undersigned paying warehouse charges after that period but not insurance charges, as no insurance will be effected on Government teas.

CLASS 5.—FULMINATE.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which from its extreme sensibility to explosion, and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes) is especially dangerous.

This class consists of two divisions.

DIVISION 1.

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury, and preparations of those substances, such as are used in percussion caps; and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus or certain descriptions of compounds of phosphorus, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphuret, with or without carbonaceous matter.
